

Course Name

Occupational First Aid Course Overview

Evosecs Occupation First Aid training course meets all legislative and regulatory requirements set out under Irish law. All of our trainers and assessors are FETAC, OFAAA and HSA registered. This course covers a wide range of topics to prepare participants to deliver emergency first aid care in the workplace. With our experienced trainers, Evosec can deliver this training to suit specific regions and countries and the range of injuries typical in these environments

Course Objectives

Evosecs Occupation First Aid training course meets all legislative and regulatory requirements set out under Irish law. All of our trainers and assessors are FETAC, OFAAA and HSA registered. This course covers a wide range of topics to prepare participants to deliver emergency first aid care in the workplace. With our experienced trainers, Evosec can deliver this training to suit specific regions and countries and the range of injuries typical in these environments

Who Should Attend

Course Duration

4 days

Course Outline

This course is certified through FETAC, the national awarding body in Ireland. Successful participants will receive a FETAC level 5 certificate in occupational first aid